

Revoke Hilltop License

HILLTOP LODGE, 22 Hillcrest drive, alleged hangout for narcotics peddlers and users, lost its license in action Thursday by the state department of alcoholic beverage control. The revocation will not go into effect until May 26, since under the new liquor law, licensee is given a 40-day stay of penalty to request an appeal on the decision. If appeal is made, a further stay may be granted. Revocation action came three months after the last of three lengthy board of equalization hearings on the case. Owners of the revoked license are George and Ann Kirchhubel and George Pallas.

New Bus Route Wins Tentative PUC Approval

Tentative approval on a new bus route to serve Westlake-Broadmoor area has been granted Henry Doelger Builder, Inc. by San Francisco public utilities commission.

Jack Kendree, Doelger representative, said he submitted plans Wednesday for the following route: Start at St. Francis circle, travel south on Junipero Serra to Alameda, west on Alameda into Westlake, south on Dorchester to Southgate, up Southgate to Montrose, east on Montrose to Stonyford, north on Stonyford to Southgate, up Dorchester to Alameda and return by the same route.

One bus would be utilized on the route, and would provide service from Westlake to downtown San Francisco in 45 minutes, Kendree said.

Kendree revealed that the Doelger subsidy of $600 a month will continue until July 1, pending PUC approval.

Monday night the city council, which last week rejected city subsidy of San Francisco's lines, met with J. W. Walsh, representative of a group of jitney owners seeking to operate here.

Walsh said he would submit his proposal to the council next Monday night.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

There were a lot of hats thrown in the ring Thursday at the DAN ANDERSEN testimonial dinner.

If they all remember their vows next April it'll be a lengthy city council ballot.

A couple of Daly City commissioners got irked at the banquet and told off the toastmaster for introducing JOE BELLI as Lions club president and Broadmoor police commissioner, while not mentioning the local comish.

Irony of it was the DC commissioners were not DC commissioners exactly five days later.

No connection between the outburst and the ouster, however.

Speaking of cops, the Broadmoor ones were mad because their own commissioner, mentioned earlier, presented the Daly City-Colma Lions pistol shooting award to a Daly City cop last week.

Consequently, there is going to be a special Broadmoor trophy established.

You might say the commissioner was pistol-whipped.

MARIO CIAMPI, architect for the local school systems, received the epitome in good publicity last week when his work received a double-truck spread in Life magazine.

The pictorial bouquet featured Ciampi's design of Corpus Christi Roman Catholic church in San Francisco, which was cited as a (Continued on Page 2)

Cabbie Stops DC Salesman Bridge Leap

A Daly City salesman was prevented from leaping off the Golden Gate bridge last week by a determined cab driver.

Francis A. Bennett, 35, auto salesman of 789-A San Diego avenue, hailed a cab in front of a San Francisco bar and told the driver to take him to Sausalito in Marin county. The cab driver, Oscar Reynolds, 45, of Sunnyvale, told police that Bennett was depressed and had been drinking heavily.

Midway across the Golden Gate bridge, Reynolds said that his passenger, sitting in the front seat, asked the cabbie to slow down and grabbed the ignition keys. Reynolds then forced the cab to the bridge curb and grappled with Bennett.

During the struggle, Reynolds managed to flash the radio emergency radio which summoned the highway patrol. Until the police arrived, Reynolds, weighing 163 and standing 5 feet 8 inches tall, managed to control Bennett, who weighs 240 pounds and stands 6 feet 3 inches.

FIRE, POLICE COMMISSIONS ABOLISHED BY CITY COUNCIL

STITES QUESTIONS SMITH'S CHANGE ON RESERVOIR SPECS

City Engineer Edwin Smith's action in "down-grading" specifications on a job after contract was awarded prompted new City Manager Howard Stites to call for a special talk with Smith Monday night.

Smith had approved use of 21,000 feet of a cheaper grade of redwood, construction heart, on re-roofing Daly City reservoir, although city specifications called for select heart, a more expensive material.

Councilman Sanford Vickers brought the topic up in study session Monday, asking that a policy should be set up on such change orders.

"If I was the engineer and the council had approved specifications I would be hesitant to make any changes without council authorization," observed Stites.

He continued that, "Materials ordinarily should not be changed without council approval. In future contracts I don't believe that much authority should be given to any department head."

Stites declared, "What's the use of the council writing specifications if the engineer can authorize any changes?"

"I'll talk this over with the engineer so he'll know what to do in the future," the manager concluded.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said, "In the future we should be apprised of these job changes."

Smith had defended his action on the grounds that slow delivery of the select-heart material originally called for would have delayed.

NEW DC MANAGER TAKES OVER AT COUNCIL MEETING

Daly City's new city manager, Howard Stites, appeared in his official capacity for the first time at Monday's council meeting and called for closer cooperation between various departments.

Stites said he hopes to "draw all the departments closer together so each can help the others."

The new manager was introduced to a citizen audience of approximately 50 people by Mayor Joseph Verducci, who told of Stites' background in the fields of engineering and municipal management.

Commenting that it was a "privilege" to come to work for Daly City, Stites foresaw "great opportunity for development and growth in the community."

"The future of Daly City was what caused me to come here," he said.

The manager said he would be responsive to the council's policies, pointing out that "the fundamentals for good government are present here."

FIREMEN'S BALL TICKETS ON SALE; DANCE SET MAY 14

Tickets for the Daly City fire department's 22nd annual ball May 14 at the community center went on sale Tuesday.

Dancing to the music of Howard Fredric and his orchestra, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will be preceded by a one-hour show.

Comedian Joey Rardin will act as master of ceremonies.

Among the attractions will be Ford and Harris, "The Maniacs of rhythm," who specialize in fast dancing and comedy; The Ah Hings, oriental magic and fire eating team; Jimmy Jamerson, master impersonator; and Florence Zamora, violinist whose selections include "everything from the classic to boogie woogie."

Firemen are making a house-to-house canvass on ticket sales. The tickets sell at $1 a piece.

Daly City Second In County Juvenile Delinquency Cases

Daly City showed the second highest number of new juvenile delinquents in the county last year, it was reported this week in the county probation office annual report.

A total of 29 new delinquents were referred to the county office from Daly City. Colma referrals amounted to five. Redwood City showed the highest number of juvenile delinquents with a total of 57.

John S. Cowgill, county probation officer, emphasized in his report that new juvenile delinquency cases in San Mateo county decreased despite the growth of population.

Cowgill pointed out that new delinquency referrals declined from 702 in 1953 to 651 in 1954, a drop of 7.3 per cent. It also marked a considerable drop from the peak year of 1951 when there were 766 new delinquency referrals.

It was noted that there was a total of 3605 cases of all types referred to the juvenile division, an increase of 765 cases over the total of 2840 cases referred in 1953. Thus while the cases increased, new juveniles committing first offenses decreased.

"This is a minor miracle in this day and age when juvenile delinquency has increased some 45 per cent since 1948," Cowgill explained.

A breakdown of other cities showed: Atherton, 2; Bayshore City, 2; Belmont, 3; Brisbane, 4; Burlingame, 4; East Palo Alto, 24; Loma Park, 1; Menlo Park, 18; Millbrae, 6; Portola, 1; San Bruno, 21; San Carlos, 14; San Mateo, 27; Coastside, 18; South San Francisco, 13; and Woodside, 2.

The report was submitted to Judge Aylett R. Cotton, in charge of the probation department.

Gas Station Owners May Sue City

Owners of a Mission street service station threatened to sue the city if action is not taken on alleged drainage and sidewalk problem, it was stated Monday night at the council meeting in a letter (Continued on Page 2)

PARENTS FAVOR VACCINE

Superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary Schools, H. Z. Weibel reported today that response on the polio vaccine consent slips is overwhelmingly in favor of the vaccination.

Children in the first and second grades in the area received vaccine consent slips this week to take home to their parents. All forms should be returned today (Friday), according to Weibel.

Plans for vaccinating children in the two grades beginning May 2 will continue despite Dr. Jonas Salk's declaration this week that only two shots of the vaccine are necessary before the Summer "polio season."

Dr. Salk's statement came in conjunction with the long-awaited word of the vaccine's effectiveness.

If it is decided by the state public health department that only two shots are necessary, 13 million more children throughout the country will be eligible to receive shots.

All free vaccine for the school children is being provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis with money raised in the recent March of Dimes drive.

OK Tough Ordinance On Dances

An ordinance placing tight controls over public dances in Daly City was adopted by the council Monday night.

The legislation requires that a permit be obtained from the city to conduct a dance and makes it unlawful for minors to attend a dance where intoxicating liquor or beer is sold.

The ordinance requires that all public dances shall cease immediately at 1 a.m., except Sunday, when dancing must end at 12 midnight.

Cost of dance permits is set at $25 a year.

Violation of any provisions of the ordinance will constitute a misdemeanor and will be punishable by maximum fine of $300 or 30 days imprisonment or both.

(Text of the ordinance may be found on Page 7.)

Action Taken To Give Manager Responsibility

City council, in a special session Tuesday night, agreed to abolish police and fire commissions.

The action was taken to establish a direct line of authority from department heads to the city manager.

In a press release the council said, "Under the present council-city manager type government there is no place for these commissions since they duplicate the manager's work and do not have his authority, which makes for a conflict in city government."

Commissioners were invited to the meeting, but only two showed up—fire commissioners Emil Bertelli and Robert Hunter.

Others Ousted

Other commissioners ousted by the order were: Louis Larcombe, fire; Ed Whitney, Tony Ricci, Victor Baher, police.

The council emphasized that the action was in no way a reflection on the work of the commissioners.

"The city council now feels that it must furnish the city manager with tools that will enable him to act in the most efficient manner. Since these two commissions are not established under state law there has been no delegation of powers to them; in fact, as has been related to the commissions on many occasions, these commissions only have the power to make recommendations to the city council," the press release stated.

"Exceptional Job"

"The commissioners have done an exceptional job. We know that we're abolishing two of our best commissions," Mayor Joseph Verducci said.

NEW DATE SET FOR CALLAN TRIAL

Supervisor Thomas J. Callan's request for a two-week continuance of trial was granted yesterday (Thursday) by Judge Thomas L. Bocci in Municipal court. Callan is now scheduled to appear on April 28.

The supervisor was arrested last week on a charge of tampering with traffic signs when a San Bruno police officer found him tearing up a NO LEFT TURN sign by the roots from its position on Junipero Serra boulevard.

The train of events leading up to Callan's arrest ran as follows:

1. Joint Highway District 10, of which Callan is a member, extended Junipero Serra boulevard up to Skyline, thereby by-passing San Bruno. All traffic going to San Bruno was forced down narrow Crystal Springs road.

2. San Bruno, in retaliation, posted no LEFT TURN signs at Junipero Serra and Crystal (Continued on Page 2)

City Council Thanks Bolger For Service

Sergeant William P. Bolger, retiring from the Daly City police force after more than 20 years' service, was officially commended by the city council Monday night.

Bolger, who last served as head of the licensing bureau, organized that same business license bureau now in existence. While on the force he served in capacities ranging from patrolman to chief of police, according to the proclamation.

"He made thousands of friends amongst the businessmen and the citizens of Daly City," the commendation read.

The council will present Bolger with a special copy of the commendation as a keepsake.

A visitor to the local police department, who gave Denver, Colorado, as his home address in the police "guest book," was received with the usual hospitality by Daly City cops.

William Swanson, 42, appeared at the department at 2:15 a.m. Monday morning and asked if the gentlemen would be good enough to supply him with a bed for the rest of the night. Officers obligingly fingerprinted Swanson and led him to a nice quiet cell.

A truce: MARYANN READ, president of Broadmoor Property Owners association, was named Tuesday to an identical position with Lake Merced VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

Also elected to a Merced Auxiliary position was LOLITA NYGREN, who last November was accused by the Broadmoor property owners group of cutting down a tree belonging to the association.

Evidently the original hatchet has been buried.

A member of the audience at Monday's council meeting was JIM KENNEDY, unsuccessful candidate for re-election last year.

Just for statistics, this is only the second time in exactly one year that one of the three councilmen defeated in 1954 has attended a regular council session.

On Thursday, same day their liquor license at Hilltop Lodge was revoked, MRS. ANN KIRCH-IUBEL requested an officer be dispatched to her home for an alleged dispute with husband GEORGE.

laid the job. In an official report to the council last week Smith pointed out that he had set two conditions on the cheaper grade material, thus in effect making it a higher grade. He also mentioned the fact that Daly City was given credit of $381.17 from contractor John Q. Adams. This, said Smith, was price differential between the two grades of material.

Local motelman H. H. Smith charged two weeks ago that the price differential between the two grades of redwood was closer to $400.

BURGLAR TAKES $215 HAUL FROM DC HOME

A total of $215 worth of items, including a German pistol and golf clubs, were reported stolen from a Daly City home last Friday.

Darrell Otto Holleyman, 118 E. Moltke street, apartment 41½, told police that when he returned home he noticed the kitchen window was slightly ajar. Upon entering, he found the house had been ransacked.

The missing items included the pistol, a collector's item; $125 worth of golf clubs; two silver dollars, also collector's items; and six ladies sweaters.

The battle continued after the supervisor's arrest when the following morning, Callan erected flare pots and barricades which blocked southbound lanes of Serra boulevard all the way from Sneath Lane to Crystal Springs road. Traffic was stopped for five hours.

San Bruno officials, realizing they were beaten, called a truce and took down the NO LEFT signs.

STAIRWAY COLLAPSES; INJURES THREE MEN

Three workmen were injured Wednesday when an apartment stairway gave way while they were repairing it. The men were rushed to Junipero Serra hospital from the apartment at 160 School street.

Injured were Angelo Baldelli, 163 Southgate avenue here; Simon Checuti, 243 Kains avenue, San Bruno; and Joseph Mattiucci, 123 Cherry avenue, South San Francisco.

Police were called to the scene at 9:56 a.m. They found that the men had fallen from a 15-foot height. Evidently a rotten stringer, bracing the stairway, had split, according to police.

The three men, all of whom suffered cuts and bruises, have been released from the hospital.

Gas Station Owners May Sue City

written by the owners' attorney.

R. L. Ariani, attorney for the Ciardella brothers, owners of the service station at 7469 Mission street at El Camino Real, said in the letter that poor drainage and a "slight hump" on the sidewalk and street in front of the gas station were interfering with his clients' business.

He explained that the brothers have complained against the city and the city engineer "for some time."

City Engineer Edwin Smith countered the charge with the statement that Ariani should investigate further before making charges.

"They may find themselves out of business," Smith said.

"The entrance to the gas station violates state law. They are operating on the suffrage of the state on a state right of way," he exclaimed.

Ariani's communication said that the city had recently done some work on Mission street, but it had been "improperly done." He claimed that the sidewalk had been eliminated by placing asphalt over it.

"In no way did this help the drainage," he charged.

The lawyer said that in his clients' opinion the only way to remedy drainage is to erect certain storm sewers or other sewerage facilities upon the incline on Mission.

Ariani claimed that when it rains, the service station is flooded. He asked permission to have his clients appear before the council to discuss their grievances.

The council turned the matter over to new City Manager Howard Stites.

LOCAL NATIONAL GUARD READIES FOR TEST ALERT

Residents of Daly City and surrounding areas are cautioned not to be alarmed when Co. "L," of the California National Guard, mobilizes for a test alert soon.

The warning was issued by 1st Lt. John P. Creighton Jr., commanding officer of Daly City's "L" company, which will participate in the alert sometime this spring with every other Army and Air National Guard unit in California and nation.

"One day soon the residents of this community will see their National Guardsmen mobilize quickly," Lt. Creighton said, "and carry out duties assigned to them in case of an emergency."

"We ask our fellow citizens not to be disturbed in the slightest by this Guard activity, which is simply a training exercise to test the speed and efficiency with which local Guardsmen can be mobilized in case of a disaster," the lieutenant added.

He asked that residents remember that this is only a test alert.

Officers and men of Co. "L" are at this time ready for "Operation Minuteman," the nationwide simultaneous one-day test alert of Army and Air National Guard units that will be staged any day in the near future.

Lieutenant Creighton said that all unit personnel were looking forward with enthusiasm to their part in "Operation Minuteman," which will find nearly 400,000 Guardsmen in over 2,200 communities throughout the United States, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Puerto Rico, springing to arms at short notice.

"We welcome this test alert," Lt. Creighton said, "because it will give us a splendid opportunity to test the speed and efficiency with which our unit can be mobilized in event of an emergency."

A secondary purpose, he added,

POLICE FIND STOLEN CAR IN RECORD TIME

Three local juveniles were picked up Wednesday night in a stolen car less than an hour after local police received a call that the car had been taken.

Philip Franzella, 85 Restani way, San Francisco, phoned the police department at 12:30 a.m. to report that his car was missing from a place in front of 6039 Mission street. Franzella was in the Wits End bar when the car was stolen, according to police.

At 1:25 a.m. Officers Philip La Bruzzo and Richard Brohman saw the stolen car being driven by the three juveniles on Alemany boulevard. They arrested the boys, two of whom are 14 and one 15 years old. The juveniles were taken to Hillcrest home.

SPECIAL BUDGET MEET TONIGHT AT CITY HALL

City council and department heads will meet in a special budget session tonight (Friday) at city hall.

Councilman Edward Dennis, member of the finance committee, said a special salary survey being prepared by the state will probably be presented at tonight's session.

City employees are seeking a substantial wage increase. Council is to give the people of Daly City an opportunity to see how the unit trains, and the potential value of this training to community, state or nation in an emergency.

The exact time and date of the test alert will be kept secret. "L" company and other units of the California National Guard will be alerted by Major General Earl M. Jones, the State Adjutant General.

General Jones will put "Operation Minuteman" in motion in California as soon as he receives an alert message from Major General Edgar C. Erickson, Chief of the National Guard Bureau at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. General Erickson is acting as national coordinator of "Operation Minuteman."

BROTHERS, 3 AND 4, CLAD IN PAJAMAS, GO OFF ON JOURNEY

Two sleepy youngsters, who strolled forth to see the world in their pajamas early Monday morning, were found comfortably situated in a parked car about five blocks from their home.

Mrs. Peggy Frederick, of 24 Coma street, mother of Donald, 3, and Gary, 4, phoned police at 8 a.m. when she found the boys missing from their beds.

At 8:45 a.m. Laurel Cleaners employees phoned police to report that they had found two youngsters. Officer Charles Munday was dispatched to the scene, where he picked up the young travelers and drove them home to their worried mother.

oil decision on their request will hinge on results of the salary survey being conducted in northern San Mateo county.

Preliminary budgets will be submitted by department heads tonight.

Judge Postpones Mrs. Heller Trial

Mrs. Caasi F. Heller, 67, charged with maintaining a public nuisance, was granted a continuance of trial to May 3 yesterday (Thursday) by Judge Thomas L. Bocci in Municipal court.

Mrs. Heller, 1020 Brunswick street, is now out on $50 bail.

The complaint against Mrs. Heller was filed by Mrs. Wayne Alexander when one of Mrs. Heller's dogs allegedly bit the Alexander child, Susan, on the back.

NOT THE THING FOR DALY CITY

Inasmuch as the council has already rejected subsidy of San Francisco municipal bus lines, it appears the only alternative for the city now is the private bus line which has made overtures to provide service here.

The other carrier which is making a bid for the franchise here is a group of jitney owners, in the process of what they hope may pass for some semblance of organization.

The private bus line has presented at least a record of performance in that they have been in continuous operation in South San Francisco, San Bruno and Brisbane since 1933, providing intra-urban and inter-city service.

Since that time the firm claims they have never appeared before the PUC to request abandonment of a line, despite frequent years which showed losses.

The jitneys, king-size automobiles, have filled their purpose in San Francisco as a shuttle service or adjunct to bus transportation.

But as a sole system of public transit we doubt if they are adequate to handle the job.

Their size is chief argument against them. To handle peak traffic and school students there would have to be a good many more vehicles put in use than the jitney group apparently cares to tie up here during the normal day-time passenger activity.

Organization of the jitneys has so far been a matter of speculation. Whereas the bus firm is a known quantity, the jitney "association" appears merely to be a group of individuals forming together for the temporary purpose of securing a city franchise.

If the jitneys were elected to fill the city's transportation vacuum, where would the responsibility lie? So far we have seen no evidence of financial responsibility in the more than three years the operators have sought to enter the local picture.

For a quick two-bit shuttle down Mission street the jitneys may be the thing, but not to serve the transportation needs of a community of 25,000 plus.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SAYS STATE ELEMENT EAGER TO PROTECT LIQUOR INTERESTS

Dear Sir:
Back in California's sheep-raising days, sheep-killing dogs were playing havoc with the flocks. The late Senator Ben Rush of Napa County proposed a law to protect the sheep from the dogs. The Senator's proposed treatment of the dogs aroused dog fanciers to action. They journeyed to Sacramento with amendments which a complacent committee made part of the measure.

As amended, Senator Rush's proposed law in effect accorded the dogs all the rights, privileges, immunities and protection guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment and more.

Turnabout

When the proposed law came up in the Senate for vote and final action, Senator Rush explained: "Originally this bill protected the sheep from the dogs. As it comes back to us from the committee, it protects the dogs from the sheep."

The incident is recalled by developments in our own State and in Nevada.

The present Nevada State Legislature was elected at a time when that state was aroused over scandals growing out of legalized gambling. Pledges for remedial legislation were the order of the day. The plain intent of the Nevada voters was to protect the public from the gamblers.

A press dispatch from Nevada for February 24 last states: "Governor Charles Russell today signed into law A.B. 70, which makes it unlawful for patrons to cheat Nevada's legalized gambling

Many Servicemen Enjoy THE RECORD

I would like to thank you very much for the copy of THE RECORD that I have been receiving every week for the past year. Over here I rarely had an opportunity to meet anyone from home and THE RECORD was my only source of information about the happening in Daly City.

I will be returning home soon so I would like to have my subscription discontinued.

This is a fine thing that you are doing and I know many other servicemen are enjoying and appreciating THE RECORD as much as I have.

Establishments." Obviously, the intent of the Nevada Legislature is to protect the gamblers from the public. The present California Legislature was elected at a time when the state was aroused over the scandals growing out of the issuance of liquor licenses. The State's fee for such licenses is $525. They cost applicants $15,000 and more. Prominent politicians of the Artie Samish era have been convicted and jailed for their part in the issuance of such licenses. Others are under indictment.

An aroused people could reasonably expect to see such licenses canceled. Instead, there are measures pending in our Legislature to give them legal status, and to keep them in force for a period of years.

Obviously, we have in our Legislature an element eager to protect the liquor lads from the public, or, figuratively speaking, as in Nevada, the dogs from the sheep.

Sincerely,
Franklin Hichborn

'Man's Best Friend' Finds Rest In Colma

Cemeteries in Colma, often called "the city of the dead" are common, but on burial ground stands uniquely alone.

Situated on Hillside boulevard, Pet's Rest Cemetery serves as the final resting place for "man's best friend," whether he be dog or cat, monkey or bird, hamster or skunk.

Over one thousand animals lie buried in the beautifully kept grounds of the cemetery, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor and Partner William Belli.

More flowers cover the graves here than are usually seen at a human cemetery.

Upon our visit to the grounds, we even found that one grave had been specially decorated for Easter. Candy eggs, bunnies and other festive toys marked the spot.

Christmas Trees

"At Christmas time we generally have about fifteen Christmas trees on the graves," Mrs. Taylor remarked in answer to this reporter's surprised reaction.

It appears that most of the animals' owners don't forget their pets after they've buried them.

"One woman who lives in San Bernardino even sends me money on each holiday to buy flowers to place on her dog's grave," Mrs. Taylor said.

On the other hand, Mrs. Taylor recalled a devotion that was brought to an abrupt end. A young man who had buried two dogs at Pet's Rest visited the graves faithfully every week. Suddenly he got married and has not returned

THE RECORD photos

Although the Taylors were then thinking of starting such a cemetery, they had not yet formulated definite plans. Taylor, however, after explaining to the woman that the ground was still to be landscaped, agreed to bury her Irish Setter.

That night Rusty was lowered into grave No. 1. Seven years later, Mrs. Taylor estimates that they bury four or five animals a week. Pet's Rest is one of about six similar cemeteries in the state.

Eulogies

The Taylors insist on certain standard headstones in order to insure the beauty of the spot, however, many of the tombstones are engraved with eulogies that outdo even some of the old Spanish Mission grave yards.

"May thine vicious poisoner suffer even as he made thee writhe in pain," is perhaps the most striking of these.

Mrs. Taylor reports that she is thankful that Toni, the dog on whose tombstone the curse is inscribed, is the only dog buried there that was poisoned.

"God's finger touched him and he slept," is engraved on King's tombstone, while right next to it is a stone reading, "Queers—One glance of thee created a day."

"The Superintendent" Rests

The Taylor's own dog is buried in the center of the cemetery. Peguigi's headstone reads, "He gave so much and received so little." Peguigi, which means "leas" in Italian, was called "The Superintendent" during his stay at the cemetery because he never missed a funeral.

"He was always the chief mourner," Mrs. Taylor recalled.

The Taylors started the unique cemetery in 1948 after Taylor, who works at Cypress Lawn cemetery, received numerous requests as to whether animals might be buried at Cypress Lawn.

One day Taylor answered the phone and a woman requested "the man who was planning to start a pet cemetery."

Irish Setter First

Although the Taylors were then thinking of starting such a cemetery, they had not yet formulated definite plans. Taylor, however, after explaining to the woman that the ground was still to be landscaped, agreed to bury her Irish Setter.

"We have even had calls to bury horses," Mrs. Taylor reported. She said, however, that she and her husband figured that they would have to charge at least $250 for such a large animal.

Cost Is $40.15

Usual cost for smaller animals is $40.15, which includes a redwood box, burial and state tax. Cremation runs $10 and up. Headstones, which are extra, run $25 and up.

Mrs. Taylor predicts that pet cemeteries will increase in the next few years. She added that it will supply work for a lot of people including florists, lumber men and bronze makers.

Richard Reed, 5 Muir Wood drive, appeared before the state senate government efficiency committee last week in support of a bill now before the legislature. The bill would make it a felony to force union members not to testify before legislative committees.

Reed said that union members now hesitate to testify for fear of reprisals. The local resident appeared with Andrew F. Gibson, Long Beach. Both identified themselves as union members.

PERSONALITY SKETCH . . .

From opera singer to KCBS program director and police commissioner of Daly City is only part of the varied experiences in the colorful career of Edmund Whitney of Westlake.

As he sat in his spacious office in the Palace hotel taking telephone calls from all over the country and planning radio programs, it was difficult to visualize the time when Whitney was a part of those early days of vaudeville when he and members of the road show weren't too certain of their next meal or lodging.

Born in San Francisco, Ed studied to be an opera singer. He had a successful audition before the opera association, but because of financial difficulties was unable to continue. He began his radio career as an announcer at KOMO-KJR in Seattle. He was an emcee for a road show when he joined KOMO to co-emcee Ralph Edwards' "Truth or Consequences" and act as emcee on "Quiz of Two Cities."

Pot Luck Party

In 1943 he moved to KQW, now KCBS where originated Pot Luck Party and Treasure Tune Show. After service as an infantryman in World War II, he returned to San Francisco as a radio lecturer on the faculty of San Francisco State college. He was appointed KCBS program director in 1953. He is also an actor of some note, having spent considerable time in the legitimate theatre.

A conscientious and enthusiastic member of the community, Whitney serves as chairman of the police commission. He resides with wife, Susan, and two daughters, Nicola, 12, and Gabrielle, 5, at 843 South Mayfair drive.

The Whitney family are a family of hobbies. Ed informed us that he is about to embark on a project of making furniture for his living room, and as we arose to leave he proudly pointed to a charming ash tray on his desk which Susan, whose hobby is ceramics, had fashioned.

Kiddies' Corner

KIDDIES' CORNER . . . Calling all pre-schoolers! If you have a little tottler who seems to have a certain amount of excess energy, dial KQED, Channel 9, at 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoons, and have him join Richard Ford's happy group of children on the "Hop, Skip and Dance" program. This program of creative dance is another one produced by KQED to "make doers out of viewers," and we feel certain that your little one will be joining in the fun and gaily dancing around the living room.

As an example of how a great historical figure can be made to live in the minds of children, tune your television set to KGO-TV, on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. for an encore of "Davy Crockett, Indian Fighter." Ever since the first program of "Davy Crockett," our offspring has been eagerly reading history books and encyclopedias about this fascinating man of history. Skillfully produced, this program is a fine example of how a program for children can be built about great leaders of the past.

Summer TV Institute
Announcement has been made by Stanford University of the thirteenth Summer Radio-Television Institute offered in co-operation with Radio Station KNBC and Television Station KPX with additional laboratory work at KQED.

The institute will be held from June 27 to August 23, and will offer 15 courses with or without university credit. Interested students should write Stanley T. Donner, Director Stanford Radio-Television Institute, speech and drama department, Stanford University, Stanford, California, for information.

Everything from artificial plants to furniture was among the "white elephants" collected by members of the community under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Buchanan of Broadmoor, chairman of the KQED membership committee for Northern San Mateo county. The donated articles will be used as props in the KQED studios for some of their live productions.

Traffic Safety

TRAFFIC SAFETY EDUCATION . . . Have you ever started across the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and wondered if there might be a car stalled in your lane or other obstructions. You really don't have to wonder if you tune your car radio to Bert Winn's "Car-Tunes" (KVA, Monday through Friday, 3:30 to 6:00 p.m.). The purpose of "Car-Tunes" is to educate and entertain the Bay Bridge motorist at the peak of the traffic hours, to help keep him alert, by making him aware of obstructions to the traffic flow; and to report on traffic conditions on the bridge so that fewer accidents and traffic jams will occur.

During the peak hours of traffic, 1500 to 1600 cars in each of the eight automobile lanes pass through the bay bridge toll gates, so the potential audience for the program is tremendous. "Car-Tunes" is truly a public service program in the interests of highway safety.

COMING PROGRAMS . . . "Victory at Sea," the unusual photographic report on naval operations of World War II returns for another engagement every Sunday over KRON-TV from 10:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. starting April 17.

The completion of the first transcontinental railroad will be the subject of the program "You Are There," and will be seen over KPX on Sunday evening, April 17, at 6 p.m.

Ridgley Cummings Reports

A QUESTION OF TASTE

A story is told about a prolific author, now deceased, which illustrates a point I'd like to make. This author complained to a friend of his declining years that he no longer enjoyed reading his own work with the same rapturous appreciation that had marked his younger days.

"Can it be that I'm losing my touch?" he asked.

"Not at all, old boy," the friend replied. "It's just that your taste is improving."

I thought of this tale a few minutes after I glanced at the editorial page of the Los Angeles Times the other morning. The stalwarts on the editorial staff had dared to tamper with my prose. But, I reminded myself, much editing is merely the exercising of personal taste in the arrangement of words. And, as the old lady said when she kissed the cow, de gustibus non est disputandum, or there is no accounting for taste.

Fluoridation of Water

An inveterate writer of letters to the editor, I had recently sent two epistles to the Times, both dealing with the same subject, possible fluoridation of Los Angeles drinking water.

The first letter was a lengthy and eloquent condemnation of those who bow to authority. It ridiculed the popular tendency to say selah, it must be so, in response to any edict coming from someone who can sign M.D., Ph.D., X.Y.Z., or some other imposing combination of letters after his name.

The word choppers on the copy desk did a hatchet job on this letter, truncating it severely. But at least they didn't change any of the sentences they used.

I should have quit while I was ahead.

However, the controversy is lively down here. Most of the proponents of adding dilute quantities of the poison to the drinking supply use arguments citing authority. These fluorine advocates have apparently done no research on the problem themselves but rather are perfectly willing to take the word of somebody else who says it's a good thing, also without benefit of research.

Being a believer in scientific method, which to me is synonymous with intelligent skepticism and the desire to have a statement proved before accepting it as valid, I took typewriter in hand and wrote a second letter.

It was the appearance of this second letter in print which irritated me to the point of becoming philosophic. Some dilettante among the Times' hired help had tried to shorten one of my sentences and as a result had thrown away the subject and introduced a pronoun which referred back to absolutely nothing.

Insensitive To Words
There is something about prolonged association with newspapers that tends to make the victim an addict of stereotypes and platitudes. He becomes insensitive to the precise use of words.

This is probably because most newspaper prose is concocted under pressure of time. Stereotypes are short cuts that by-pass thinking and thus save valuable minutes at the same time giving the reader a rough idea of what the writer has in mind.

A rough idea is often enough. In a publication of ephemeral interest a few platitudes per column are excusable.

But the writers of letters to the editor are not under this same pressure. Presumably they are sitting down at leisure to share their thoughts and/or feelings on some subject of importance to them with other readers of the same publication.

The word choppers down at headquarters should bear this in mind and handle such submitted prose reverently. They are under no compulsion to use all of it. Or for that matter any.

They can leave out chunks in the interest of saving space, but the omissions should be indicated by the customary three dots.

Caution may decree that they cut out possibly libelous adjectives. Prudence may urge the omission of statements that might upset the serenity of the leading advertisers. This is permissible if the omissions are indicated and one of the few favorable things I can say about Time Magazine, whose letters column is more interesting than most sections of the book, is that it faithfully follows this practice.

But to deliberately tamper with a letter writer's words and change them around to suit the taste or prejudice of some fledgling assigned to the vox populi column is, I am convinced, distinctly unethical.

"Readability" Interest

The L. A. Times is not the only newspaper that does this, perhaps in the interest of what the editors consider "readability." When I lived in San Francisco a few years ago I used to bombard the helpless editors of The News and The Chronicle with indignant, conatulatory, inquiring or condescending letters on various subjects of current interest. The Chronicle massacred my contributions to such an extent that I was impelled to protest to Paul Smith, at that time the top man on the Chronicle totem pole. By contrast The News used them or left them out but didn't try to improve them.

For some reason I never wrote a letter to the editor of the other two San Francisco papers, the Examiner and the Call-Bulletin. The explanation may be that I worked on both these sheets and the idea of writing to my former bosses seemed like taking advantage of an expired relationship. Perhaps the real reason was that most of the communications from the public that appeared in the Hearst papers seemed to deal with I Am An American Day or vivisection, two subjects that failed to excite me deeply.

If the publishers of the metropolitan press only realized it, their public forum sections could become terrific circulation builders.

Whittaker Chambers in his book, "Witness," bears this out. When he went to work on the Daily Worker, early in his career as a revolutionist, Chambers was given the despised chore of selecting and editing letters to the editor. His ambitious political rivals divided the so-called important jobs on the paper among themselves.

Chambers plugged away, using sincerity as his criterion and not trying to correct and polish up the grammar of his contributors. The result was that a year later Moscow praised him at a Comintern convention and he was promoted to managing editor or news editor or some such spot, the exact title having slipped my mind.

Not A Word-Chopper

Not that Mr. Chambers is any shining light. But at least he wasn't a word-chopper.

And that brings me full circle, for in using Whittaker Chambers to prove a point I am reminded of something the Times left out of my fluorine letter. It was a quote from Friedrich Wilhelm Nietzsche, another example of my proclivity for choosing unpopular authorities.

Poor Nietzsche died insane in 1900 and when one is trying to bolster one's position in an argument it is sometimes wiser to pick a more impeccable supporter. Nevertheless here's what the German poet wrote, and I admire it:

"The surest way to corrupt a youth is to instruct him to hold in higher esteem those who think alike than those who think differently."

Mrs. Lewis previously had pleaded innocent to two counts of sale of narcotics.

She is to be sentenced by Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis next Monday.

Mrs. Lewis was one of a ring of 11 persons picked up in a roundup of dope peddlers in north San Mateo county and San Francisco. According to San Francisco authorities, the ring peddled dope to outer Mission district and Daly City teenagers.

It was also claimed by authorities that the ring peddled dope at the Hilltop Lodge, which received revocation of its license last week.

Consider New DC Jobs

Classifications for two new city jobs were held over by the council Monday night. The positions, as set up by civil service board of review, are meter reader and parking meter collector-repairman.

Salary range for both jobs is $281-$325.

Callan Questions Inspection Delay

The old question of different interpretations on builders verbal commitments was brought before the council again Monday night by developer Thomas Callan Jr.

Callan complained that he had been having some difficulty in getting final city inspection on his new homes in No. 3 unit of Callan Heights.

The council claims that Callan verbally agreed to put in sidewalks on a portion of Hoffman street.

Callan said the city engineer, Edwin Smith, told him that at the present time, since the street was not heavily travelled, no further improvements were necessary.

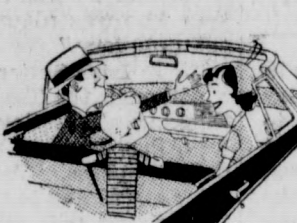

As a result of the disagreement City Manager Howard Stites agreed to tour the area with Callan. The builder said he would consider putting in the sidewalks and send the city a check covering the amount of installation cost, $325, if he decided it was all right.

Stites commented after the discussion that he would draw up a check list for annexations which would allow the city to determine if all necessary improvements had been made.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

Eddie Cantor has nothing on George Andro of Manila Way! His 5th daughter, Loretta, was born not so long ago, and picked for the Cantor 5-girl laurels were welcomed home by four happy sisters.

James and Sabina Fairbanks have been busy with dinner engagements; they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Gold one recent evening, and then invited Miss Elsie McLaren and Mrs. Grace McDonald to their Garden Lane home to welcome Mrs. Pauline M. Brown back from Tecate for the Easter holidays.

Now that the police department's fund-raising dance has been such a success, and the funds themselves are planned for such a necessary thing as civilian defense, it's time to take stock of just what it all means. The Broadmoor police reserves are the group in the Village most concerned with this problem, not only with regard to the traffic as it might be channeled through the area from San Francisco, but with very definite regard to the needs and protection of the Broadmoor and Garden Village families. It all comes down to the individual; unless each of us is willing to find out what to do and how to do it, in terms of his own family group at least, it is going to be pretty hard to get anything worked out in terms of the community. How many of you have children in how many schools? What will you do for them in case of a disaster situation? Wouldn't you feel better knowing that some sort of system had been worked out to take care of children at the schools until such time as they could be brought home safely? This is only one part of what civilian defense can do—if we do something about it. Definite knowledge, even with worry, is much better than an unprepared plunge into a tangle of frightening situations. Think it over!

North and South: Young Suzanne Daubin and her mother are back on Larchmont after a trip to Los Angeles. The occasion was a mixture of sadness and joy for they went to see Mrs. Daubin's father, who is very seriously ill, and to attend the wedding of her brother John, the last of ten children to get married and start a home. And there was Gordon Feist, who took his sons, Gregory and young Gordon, and their cousins, Michael Kearney, up to a ranch near Sacramento for a Sunday. They had a wonderful time, riding horses and crowding as much ranch life into one day as they could!

Stewart street's Peggy Northrup had her neighbors in for lunch, and Evelyn Alexander, Ruth Brown, Olga Rizzo, Emma Aiello and Peggy's mother-in-law, Mrs. Georgia Northrup, had a relaxing, conversational noon hour while most of the children napped.

Mrs. John Schlemmer, an ex-Garden Villager, dropped in to see Jean Cyr on Sullivan the other day and catch up on all the news. The Schlemmers, who now live in Alameda, were one of the first families of Garden Village, as were the Cyrs and the Klaisners. Lowell Klaisner was the first baby born in Garden Village—16 years ago! How time flies, indeed!

There have been some happy April birthdays around—Elvira Nafe and Ree Zook, over on Manila, both had best wishes going their way recently, and Verna Duste should be getting some just about now! We would like to say happy birthday all around, with a special gift of a gallon of the best midnight oil for Verna, a fellow columnist! Mrs. Warren Baker of Foothill will have her special day on April 18—we hope she has a lovely birthday time.

The Washington Street Traveler, Ferguson Mitchell, is back home after a short business trip to Salt Lake City. Seems as how there was quite some snow around there for a while, but things started getting California-weatherish just before he left for home!

Easter was a beautiful and thoughtful day for all of us, but four of Broadmoor's little girls must have found it so in a very special way, for they danced in the Easter performance given for the children at the Shriners Hospital, and brought happiness to children who could not dance. Ralph Box, Lynn Auer, Linda Hurst and Irene Arejula are the four girls we mentioned, and they went as a part of the group from the Inez Weibel Dance Studio. This is the 17th consecutive year Mrs. Weibel has helped with the Easter program at the hospital without missing one Easter day.

The stork decided it was time for a trip to Gilman drive, so he brought along Mark Delo, 6 lbs. one-half ounce, as a traveling companion, and left him with the Robert Warfel family before taking off for home again. Young Charles Warfel is a very proud brother!

Busy as Louvaine Drive's Inez Weibel is with her work for the Vista Grande Community Concert association, she still had time to make some very clever decorations for the Women's association meeting at the Presbyterian church last week. Dale and Carol Weibel helped too, making the mobile of braided paper birds and sassy paper rabbits. Inez should be complimented, also, for the beautiful arrangement of lilies at the Easter services. That was part of her job as flower chairman.

Maddux Memo: Mauna Lee and Arlen Deutsch came up from San Jose to spend the Easter weekend with the Vern Box family. Mauna Lee's last name was Capps a year or so ago when she went to Jeff high. Young Gayle Smith had a family party on her third birthday, which was April 1, no less! Sister Marilyn had just gotten over the excitement of her own celebration—taking 11 friends to Ricky's Red Chimney for lunch. The Swanson family having thrown the last case of measles out the door, took off for Lois' family place at Guerneville for an Easter weekend out and about. Jack and Helen Baumgartner helped celebrate a wedding anniversary for Helen's father, A. W. Fox, with dinner at the Colonial down the way.

Young Johnny Skillman went the way of all boys not so long ago. Seems he had to make the trip from Stewart avenue to Juniper Serra hospital for some stitches in a head cut. That seems to be a well-worn path for a well-worn reason with the young men in the Villages! Glad to report that Johnny is doing fine now.

Larchmont has lost another family, for the John Kellys have sold their house and will be moving to Los Angeles soon, where John will be merchandising and advertising manager for the Philco Co. Yvonne and daughters Melody and Kathy are pretty busy making plans and preparing for the move, to say nothing of long-distance consultations about long-distance house-hunting! All their friends will be very sorry to see them go, we know. We are, too.

That whirlwind seen on MacArthur recently was only Elizabeth Arnst, who had her sister's family staying with her until their home on School street was ready. Her brother-in-law, Capt. Edgar Unfrank, just returned from Korea, and is now stationed at the Presidio. What a lot of catching-up talk must have taken place!

Paul Elliott's parents, the A. R. Elliotts, stopped off on Gilman to see Paul and Doris and grandson Steve before going on to their summer home in Seattle. They had come from Phoenix, which is nice for winter living but a hot spot in summer. Paul has been kind of busy lately, taking a group of 26 Intermediate Sunday Schoolers skating. He and John LePine kept an eye on the ice skaters, and Lester Bradford captained the roller skating crew. As always on these trips, everybody had one big fine time!

Harriet and Bob Ellis are very happy about some old friends of theirs. Seems that the R. W. Ravenscroft, whom they had known four years ago in the East Bay and who had moved to Lynbrook, N. Y., are now back California-way and settled in Redwood City. They and their children spent a week or so with the Ellises while house-hunting, giving the younger generation time to get acquainted all over again, too.

The Hale household on 90th street had an especially happy Easter, for Walter Hale weighed anchor and came north from San Diego on a 14-day leave from the Navy. Here's hoping he has smooth sailing during his visit home.

It was very sad to hear of Ruth Malcolm's sudden death after getting the news of the birth of her new baby. There are many friends and neighbors who have left Ben and his two little girls know of their sorrow and sympathy. We would like to be among them.

LOCAL BOYS BUILD ENORMOUS DRAGON FOR SCOUT-O-RAMA

An enormous fire eating dragon nearly a half block long is beginning to come alive in the basements and cellars of the Westlake District.

And when the dragon emerges from the underground, it will probably be breathing fire and smoke from its hideous twelve foot head.

But the neighbors won't be panicked when it appears, because many of them have been responsible for its coming into being.

This dragon is being designed, constructed and put together by the Cub Scouts, leaders and parents of Pack 248, sponsored by the Westlake Improvement association, in the Lake Merced Scout district for the big Scout-O-Rama show at the Cow Palace April 29-30.

The Westlake dragon will be one of hundreds of grotesque, homemade, creatures crawling about the arena of the Cow Palace during a Cub Scout act in the Scout-O-Rama show.

Man The Dragon
About 30 Cubs from Pack 248 will man the dragon in the performance, and the giant head will be manipulated by two adults.

The assembling job of the dragon is still in process. Construction of many of its parts are going on in three or four homes in the district. Den mothers of the pack are sewing hundreds of yards of material, collecting flexible poles, and preparing color charts for the dyeing of the material in the home of Mrs. Albert Wilson, 27 Westdale avenue.

When everything is completed, they will bring the dragon from the basements of Westlake and parade it down the streets, since there wouldn't be another place big enough to stage a dress rehearsal for the show.

Hundreds of Scouts from the Lake Merced Scout district, which includes Daly City, Westlake, Park Merced, Stonestown, Merced Manor, Lakeshore, Ingleside Terrace, St. Francis Woods, West Portal and Forrest Hills, will be participating in the S. F. Scout Council's

Smith Says Accept Doelger Boundary On Westmoor Site

Engineer Edwin Smith told THE RECORD today that he would accept Doelger's boundary line for the Westmoor south site rather than conduct another survey himself. Smith drew the original line which differs from Doelger's line.

Smith's decision was made before he was notified that the Jefferson Union high school board of trustees were planning to ask him to make a re-survey of the site.

The board's decision arose Monday night at their regular meeting when two of Doelger's representatives, Ted Tronoff and Carl Timmons, asked permission to proceed with rough grading on the area adjacent to the school site.

Tronoff told the board that the Doelger corporation was afraid to start work until the boundary dispute had been settled.

Throw Off Streets

"If we go ahead on the basis of our line, and you accept Smith's line, it will throw off our whole street pattern," Tronoff explained.

The difference in boundaries arose when Smith used as reference an old county road map. Smith extended an angle on this map in order to draw the boundary.

On the other hand, Doelger's men drew their line from monuments on the land.

The two lines vary 12 or 13 feet at the point where the school is planned, however, a difference of 40 or 50 feet would be evident at the end of the boundary because Smith's angle would increase with length.

Inconsequential

Superintendent of Schools Stanford Hannah explained today that the wide difference in the boundaries would be inconsequential at the present time because the land is to be left undeveloped.

"The important thing is that we would like to have the correct boundaries for the land," Hannah said.

Smith, subject to a great deal of varied criticism of late, came into more Monday by the board.

"Shouldn't Be Paid"

"If Doelger is right and Smith is wrong, then Smith shouldn't be paid for his survey," Board Member Raymond T. Whitney exclaimed.

Whitney, the most outspoken person at the meeting, said that it was the first time he had ever seen a deed given on assumption.

Other transactions Monday night included accepting the resignations of two teachers, Miss Lynnea

LAST REGULAR MEET TOMORROW FOR BPOA PREXY

Maryann Read, president of the Broadmoor Property Owners association, presided at her final business meeting of that group Thursday night at the Broadmoor community center.

Mrs. Read said she would not seek re-election to the board, but would remain one year as consultant.

Election of seven officers to the nine-member board of directors will take place May 12. Only incumbents who will remain are Vincent Cauchi and Ross Hilton. Positions of Mrs. Read, Viola Murphy, Leroy Krueger, Joseph Belli Jr., Martin Orloff, Paul Noll and Amos Bechtold expire next month. Topping Thursday night's agenda were transportation and the proposed water rate increase on file by California Water Service.

Hearing on the 18 per cent water rate hike sought by the company will be held May 9 before the public utilities commission in San Francisco. Attorney Thomas Jenkins will act as spokesman for the BPOA, which is protesting the rate increase.

The meeting Thursday was thrown open to general discussion on the transportation situation. Mrs. Read said, however, that the association's policy has been to go along with any plan set by Daly City.

Martin Ostrow, student with the Coro Foundation was called on to summarize his survey on the prospects of incorporation for the Broadmoor area.

Westlake Directors Win Vote Of Confidence

Westlake Improvement Association board of directors received "vote of confidence" from more than 300 homeowners Tuesday night in an adjourned session of the December 6 election which was declared illegal by a member of the association.

Preceded by complicated byplay on Roberts Rules of Order, the election was carried off at Jefferson High school auditorium, despite the fact that lack of quorum made it only an unofficial balloting.

President Starr Dunham pointed out at the beginning of the meeting that 624 members constituted a quorum, there being 1247 paid up members. He asked the some 100 members present if they came there to vote. The answer was affirmative.

Lauds Directors Hartley Appleton then took the podium, lauding the present directors for their service to the association.

Commenting that the "present trouble is caused by the small group being sued (for assessments) by the association," Appleton asked for a "vote of confidence" and cast his nomination for Fred Bertetta, 10 Wilshire court, five 1955 directors—Dunham, Cass Norton, William Dias, Charles Santucci and Richard Stark.

Following a second, a member of the audience, Sidney Charlip, 30 Sheffield drive, arose and moved that the meeting be adjourned according to bylaws, because of lack of quorum. Appleton jumped to his feet, charging, "He's not a member—go home and peddle your fish."

Charlip took his seat, revealing later he was carrying a proxy vote of a paid-up member.

Withdraws Nomination Fred Bertetta, 10 Wilshire court, addressed the chair and asked that his nomination of December 6, still in effect, be withdrawn, as Appleton, also a candidate last year, had done earlier in the meeting.

Bertetta then moved the nominations be closed and his action was seconded by John Trapani, 71

Hillsdale. Anthony R. Formosa, 79 Lake Vista, took the floor and queried Dunham, "What is to be accomplished by this meeting if there's no quorum?" He also declared there was "no purpose served by being antagonistic to the people opposing this move." Applause followed his comments.

Dunham said he was not antagonistic. Virgil P. Anderson, 88 Castillon, expressed himself in favor of the association's accomplishments, but pointed out that the homeowners' group was already spending money on litigation because of a previous improper election.

Asks Re-Phrase Question "I voted to cast my ballot on an election. Shouldn't you re-phrase the original question and ask the people if they want to vote, knowing there is no quorum?" asked Formosa.

Director Dias then arose to a point of order. "There is a motion before the house to close nominations," Irvin Silberstein, 157 Wilshire, then moved the original motion be tabled. His action received a second from W. R. Leahy.

Formosa then asked that Dunham ask all present if they wished to vote with the knowledge it was not official. Director Norton se-

REC SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO OPEN THIS SATURDAY

The 1955 Daly City Recreation Softball league will get underway Saturday with six games scheduled at the Marchbanks diamond.

James Mason, recreation director, said he expected six teams to compete in each of the two divisions—"A" (for eighth graders), and "B" (for seventh graders).

Between 180 and 200 youngsters are expected to participate in the seven-week single round-robin circuit.

Late entries, team scheduling and final organizing are in process this week. Players who have not yet registered should do so this week as the league will be limited because of restricted facilities, Mason pointed out.

All seventh and eighth graders are eligible to register at the Daly City community center with either Edward Mosconi or John Belforte.

Six contests will be held on six successive Saturdays, with the seventh week scheduled for the playoffs.

Broadmoor MS Victim Asks Drive Donations

The Multiple Sclerosis society is now holding its national drive for funds, according to Mrs. Irene Chessman, Broadmoor Multiple Sclerosis victim.

"I hope that everyone will send a donation so that MS victims may someday receive news of a preventative cause as has just been developed for polio sufferers," Mrs. Chessman said today.

Contributions may be sent to 745 Market street, or MS, in care of Postmaster.

Want To Ballot

Dunham then called for the raising of hands on the voting issue. Again the citizens expressed a desire to ballot.

"I want to move that we now give the board a vote of confidence," said Anderson. John Dryo, 148 Wilshire, gave his second. Members of the audience were unanimous in approving Anderson's motion.

A show of hands was then asked by Dunham on the earlier tabled motion to close nominations. Again the motion before the house passed unanimously.

"Why vote at all?" asked George Pingry, 8 Cliffside drive. "I move we cast a unanimous ballot for the five nominees."

Another Candidate Silberstein then brought to the group's attention that there was one other nominee remaining from the December 6 adjourned meeting, John Murphy.

Association attorney J. W. Jackson then advised that the group go ahead and cast ballots, rather than give a unanimous vote.

Results, including those present and proxies, showed the following: Dunham, 308; Santucci, 307; Norton, 307; Dias, 309; Stark, 307; and Murphy, 14.

Dunham then declared the meeting adjourned from day to day.

Today (Friday) the principals in the election fracas return to Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis' court to decide the original issue of whether the present board is actually in power—results of Tuesday's session notwithstanding.

Hotspurs, Viking Booters Set Pace In B'moor Soccer

Second round of play last week in the Broadmoor Youth association Soccer league at Garden Village found Hotspurs scoring a 2-0 victory over Broadmoor, as George Mueller notched both goals for the winners.

Vikings nipped Caldonians, 4-2, as Mike Kearney and Jim Heick hit two apiece for the victors. Don Clements and Don Harris each tied one for Caldonians.

Thursday's action between Seven Fours and Mercury was postponed as players on both teams were participating in a baseball game.

Vikings and Hotspurs are now tied for first with one win, one tie apiece, breaking up a six-way deadlock that resulted the opening week when all contests ended in ties.

CLASSY ENVELOPE FIVE PRESSED IN WIN OVER VETS

The star studded National Envelope quintet, boasting one of the finest basketball aggregations in Northern California, were forced to call on all their polish and experience to score a 71-62 victory over a well organized Veterans of Foreign Wars team last week.

The Adult league contest, played before 250 wildly cheering fans at the War Memorial Building was a real thriller until the National's Frank Kudelka, ex-St. Mary's All American, hit a trio of buckets with four minutes remaining to ice the game for the Envelope five.

Boosted by San Francisco All City prep stars, Tom Meschery of Lowell and the fabulous record breaking Fred LaCour of St. Ignace, the Vets played on even terms with their more publicized rivals during the first 14 minutes of the ball game. Meschery's ten point contribution, scored almost exclusively on sets 25 feet out, was responsible for most of the VFW damage.

Live Up To Reputation The final six minutes of the first half found the National Envelope club more than living up to their reputation as Joe McNamara, former USF pivot star, rammed in a pair of jumps and a rebound to give the Nationals a commanding 30-23, half-time margin.

After the intermission the vets capitalizing on the exceptional scoring ability of LaCour came fighting back. Fred, who was able only to play in the final 15 minutes of the ball game, put on an 18 point scoring display, pushing the VFW to within three points of the Envelope squad.

With eight minutes remaining ex-Notre Dame All American Kevin O'Shea found the range with his famous one-hand set to give the Nationals a 64-56 lead. Meschery retaliated immediately with a pair of jump shots and two charities, whittling the Envelope lead to a single field goal. Meschery's efforts, however, only set the stage for Kudelka's six point outburst which wrapped up the ball game.

Kudelka was high man for the evening and LaCour topped the losers with 18 a piece. The Nationals victory was their second in as many starts. The hard luck Veterans' outfit are now in possession of a 1 and 2 record.

Ralph's Nipped In the evening's second game a group of former Balboa High athletes, representing Ralph's Cleaners, battled a highly rated Leopard Cafe team to a standstill before going down to a 68-61 defeat.

The Leopard Club with Rudy Zannini, member of the National Championship USF squad, leading the way, had a little too much scoring punch for the game Ralph squad. Behind throughout the entire first half, the visiting team, hitting almost fifty per cent of their floor shots, forced to the front with ten minutes remaining in the game.

Joe Dillon and Big John Flaherty, playing brilliantly for the Cleaner five, kept Ralph's within range, despite heavy scoring by the Cafe five. With five minutes remaining, the phenomenal Ward Healy pushed in a couple of 20 footers to give the Leopard's a six point bulge. Ex-Sacred Heart Pucci scored 37 points on an as-star Dan Derby came right back with his 15th point of the evening to narrow the gap to two.

Trying desperately to stave off defeat, the Cleaners quintet threw caution to the wind. Zannini and Leopard postman Bob McDougall quickly took advantage of the defensive lapses to plunk in the game winning baskets. Ron Moresco added an insurance field goal just as the final buzzer sounded. Healy and Moresco were high for the winners with 14 points apiece, while Joe Dillon and Derby topped all scorers with 15 each. The defeat, the first for Ralph's, gives the local team a 1 and 1 record. The Leopard Cafe remains unbeaten in two outings.

A powerful Burlingame track squad crushed Jefferson High school's varsity Tuesday, 83 1/2 to 9 1/2, in a PAL dual meet at the Panther oval.

Three firsts were all the Indians could muster. Daly City winners were Jim Rector in the half-mile, 2:05.9; Lowell Klaisner, 100-yard dash 10.4; and Rich Fambri in the mile, 4:51.9.

Coach Ernie Ribera's point-gaining strategy paid-off, as he moved Rector down to the 880, figuring Fambri had enough steam to win the event. Rector went along in the mile race "just for the ride" and won it in 4:43, after capturing the 880, but his win was unofficial, since PAL rulings forbid a runner entering more than two distance events.

Klaisner was in the runner-up role for the first time in a dual meet this year as he took second to Bob Peterson in a 220 race won in 23.2.

Big George Seger got off his best competitive effort in the discus, 126' 2 1/4", to take a second.

The Indian 30s were edged, 63-50, as they squeezed into only four first place spots.

Jeff spikemen claiming wins were Andy Estikov, 1320, 3:32.8; Boyd Hillyer, shot put, 47' 11"; Roy Molina, broad jump, 17' 8"; and Roy Corner, pole vault, 9'.

The Daly City 20s continued undefeated with a 41-27 victory, paced by Sonny Martinez' triple win and spot on the victorious relay team, which accounted for 16 1/4 of the Indians' point total.

Martinez annexed the 75 in 8.5, the 150 in 16.4 and the broadjump, 16' 10".

Dan Miceli toured the 330 dash in 39.5 for the only other Jeff first.

Ribera will enter a strong contingent in the varsity distance medley relay at the El Cerrito Relays tomorrow. Making up the team will be Mike Cloonan, 440; Rich Gonzales, 880; Fambri, 1320; and Rector, mile.

The Indians will also send a varsity high hurdles shuttle relay to the El Cerrito classic, as well as two discusmen, Mike Cloonan. The hurdle aggregation will be made up of Don Wiesner, Carl Thomas, Allen Arneson and Ernie Hansen.

In the 30s division, the locals will enter 440, 880, mile, distance medley and shuttle hurdle relay teams.

Next Thursday the Indian squads go against South San Francisco in another PAL dual meet.

test in the three-year history of the league. The powerful Alta Roofing outfit, led by Big Harvey Cranford, were forced to score one short of a 100 to down a gallant bunch of ex-Jeff Hi basketballers playing under the banner of the Castro Native Sons 99-84.

The amazing Alta scoring display was somewhat over shadowed by the brilliant individual performance of the Native Sons' ace pivotman Lou Pucci. The talented Pucci scored 37 points on an as-star Dan Derby came right back with his 15th point of the evening to narrow the gap to two.

Trying desperately to stave off defeat, the Cleaners quintet threw caution to the wind. Zannini and Leopard postman Bob McDougall quickly took advantage of the defensive lapses to plunk in the game winning baskets. Ron Moresco added an insurance field goal just as the final buzzer sounded. Healy and Moresco were high for the winners with 14 points apiece, while Joe Dillon and Derby topped all scorers with 15 each. The defeat, the first for Ralph's, gives the local team a 1 and 1 record. The Leopard Cafe remains unbeaten in two outings.

That's My Point

By Monte Dayton

YOU'VE READ ABOUT HIS BROTHER

You've probably read all about Joe "Waffle Ear" Malcewicz in the down-town prints. He's the wrestling promoter who handles Leo Nommellini, subject of several thousand galleys of type after his recent match with the world champion Lou Tese.

A gent of parallel importance in the rasslin' world is Joe's brother, Frank "The Tiger" Malcewicz, who lives at 26 Garden Lane, Garden Village.

After a lustrous sports career that started with amateur boxing in 1927, Frank has settled down to the business of signing other beef-trusts to do battle, a profession he has engaged in for nearly 15 years.

In '28 Malcewicz, a light-heavyweight, was candidate for the U.S. Olympic boxing team.

His ring career was capped with the championship of New York in '27.

DAMON RUNYON MAKES HIM A PRO

"The Tiger" embarked on a brief professional boxing career, prompted by none other than the fabulous story-teller of the hol-polloi, Damon Runyon.

Runyon got interested in Frank and took him to Dougherty's training camp in Pennsylvania, one of the country's best. Dougherty was the handler of George Godfrey, one of history's top heavyweights who never quite made the championship grade.

It was an informal arrangement with Runyon and Malcewicz. There was no contract, which was fine and dandy with Frank, since after two or three pro fights, he decided this business was "too slow, not enough action."

Malcewicz shed his gloves and started wrestling, touring the L.A. small club circuit, working on the side to make enough to sustain himself and his wife, Stephanie, whom he had married in 1930.

GETS UP IN CLASSY COMPANY

After 1933, the grunt 'n groan wages started picking up as Frank's wrestling ability accelerated. During the next few years he got as far as wrestling for the middleweight and light-heavy world championships, which is getting up there in classy company.

Frank didn't worry too much about bookings. Working with brother Joe, he started handling his own contract, farming himself out along with his other wrestlers.

Finally, the booking business got too big and Frank dropped active participation in wrestling altogether in 1946.

Now Frank works harder than his wrestlers. His booking territory includes all of northern California from Fresno to the Oregon border. He sometimes sends participants to such far off lands as Australia, Honolulu, New Zealand and Japan.

As a booking agent, Frank's job is to secure two good combatants

Frosh Club Gets Tenth

Jefferson High school frosh-soph baseball team made it ten in a row Tuesday in a practice contest against Burlingame, utilizing six singles to score a 4-2 triumph.

Paul Tapia gained the victory, giving up only three hits, walking eight and striking out four batters.

Barry Haanen paced the Indian hitting attack, getting singles in the second and sixth innings, driving in one run on each safety.

Other RBIs were credited to Delmar Scott and Ed Leveroni, each singling to push tallies across.

With a 10-0 overall mark and 3-0 league record, Coach Byron Van Alstyne's diamondmen took on their fourth league for, Palo Alto, yesterday.

In practice outings next week the Jeffs tangle with Sacred Heart Tuesday, Half Moon Bay Wednesday and follow up with their fifth league fray Thursday against Capuchino.

County Sheriff, Police Pistol Team Plan Meet

The San Mateo county sheriff and police pistol team will hold pistol matches this Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Ray Ottoboni pistol range. Ottoboni invites everyone to attend.

for a promoter who wants to make a buck.

Unlike the boxing game, the promoter doesn't have to do all the leg work—he relies on the bookers. Frank makes the connections, lines up the publicity for the promoters' use and, on the big ones, travels to the arena to see that all goes well. He's interested too, working on a percentage basis, as do the wrestlers.

A SOLUTION FOR EVERYBODY

Known throughout the country in the mat world, Frank and Joe have the patent solution to booking matches. Bring in the right wrestlers, draw a big crowd, make the promoters money, make the wrestlers money, and leave a little left over for the brothers Malcewicz.

This way everybody's happy and wants to come back for more of the same, which means that Frank has a life-time job if he wants it.

Frank goes at this business so well that it takes all his waking hours and a few normally reserved for sleeping, too. Because of this busy existence, Frank and his wife are taking a month's trip to Honolulu this June to celebrate their 25th anniversary. No wrestling promotion, either, promises Frank.

The Malcewicz have lived at the Garden Lane address since 1940, making them pioneers in the small residential community adjacent to Daly City.

As a parting comment in the interview this week with Frank, he avowed that Nommellini really was the champ. "He should have known he was wrestling under California rules. . . . Whoa—That's where we came in.

Jeff Sets 15-Game Win Mark; Face Tough Mateo Club Today

Jefferson High school's varsity baseball club set a new win record Tuesday but fell down the following day to suffer a 8-1 whipping at the hands of a strong Sacred Heart nine.

Topping Carlmont Tuesday, 8-5, in PAL action, the Jeffs stretched their win total to 15, besting the 14-game mark set by the championship 1950 team.

The victory, chalked up by Ray Vuillmainroy, moved the Indians to within five games of their 20-win goal this season.

Today (Friday) the Jeffs, with a 1-1 mark in league play, take on what could prove to be their toughest foe this season, San Mateo, tabbed in pre-season to take the league title.

Power Hitters

The Mateos have a 1-1 record, suffering a loss to South City, but Coach Lou Martin respects the hitting power of the Bearcats, coupled with their fine pitching staff.

Martin thinks it will be a battle of the bats. "If we can maintain our excellent hitting today we'll take them," Martin says.

Coach Lou Martin said he expected a decision to be reached today on his protest of Jefferson High school's 2-1 loss to Capuchino April 1 in the opening PAL game.

The local coach claimed a bad call by one of the umpires and filed official protest with PAL commissioner Don Bogie.

Bogie is reviewing the umpire's call and told Martin he would give the coach a verdict today.

Lowell Creighton, with a 6-2 mark, will open on the mound today, with John Murphy as the other end of the battery.

A win today would put the Jeffs "in," according to Martin. He discounts Capuchino, victor over the Indians in the PAL opener, estimating that the Caps will lose at least two games this season.

Today's contest will be at Jefferson High diamond, starting at 3:15 p.m.

Vuillmainroy Sparkles

Vuillmainroy sparked for the Indians in Tuesday's league win over Carlmont. He held the Scots to four hits, walking only three and striking out seven.

The Indians hit safely nine times. Four bingles in the second inning accounted for four tallies, as Vuillmainroy won his own game with a bags loaded homer. In the third frame the Daly City team added another four, three of them shuttled home by Bob Grubb's round-tripper.

Wednesday Sacred Heart held the Indians to six scattered hits as they displayed the power that has marked them tops in the AAA. Jim Honeywell was nicked for 10 hits and three walks, striking out six.

The Indians got their only run in the sixth after a double by Ken

Smith, a walk and a bunt by Bob Bailey scoring Smith.

Sacred Heart, described by Martin as the best club he's seen this year, scored one in the first, three in the third, three in the fifth and another in the sixth.

Smith got only extra base blow for Jeff, in addition to hitting a single, giving him two for three on the day.

Split Twin Bill

Last Thursday the local club split in a double-header with Washington, taking the opener, 4-3, behind Honeywell's eight-hit performance.

The Indians banged Washington for 13 hits. Bob Gaggero pasted the ball successfully three times in as many trips, while Rich Guisti got three for four, and Smith and Al Figone two for three. All were singles.

The Jeffs scored all four of their tallies in the first frame on a remarkable five consecutive singles.

In the second tilt the Indians finished on the short-end of 1-0 score, as the two coaches swept the benches clean.

Vuillmainroy went the distance for Jeff, giving up four hits, walking one and striking out seven.

The Indian club, made up of reserves, managed only two hits, a double by Smith, only regular in the game, and a single by Rich Watso.

The Jeffs now have an overall season record of 15-6.

Allain Wins Awards

Jack Allain of Daly City, all-around athlete at College of San Mateo, was among those basketball veterans receiving blocks and jackets at recent college ceremonies.

Allain earned the center spot on the Big-Eight all-conference cage squad.

CLOSE RACE LOOMS IN BOWLING LEAGUE

A close race in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league was tightened further Tuesday as Vince & Fred and Thur Meat each scored triple victories to move into first and second place, respectively, as former pace-setter Central Club dropped a pair to Vagabonds.

V & F nipped Walter's for three straight, behind Tony Santos' sizzling 636 series, by far the evening's best. Santos combined games of 268, 163 and 205 for the big effort. His 268 individual game was one of the season's best and high for the evening.

Thur moved past Central club with a triple killing over Daly City Eagles.

With two weeks of play remaining V & F holds a 28-14 mark, trailed by Thur, 27-15, and Central, 26-16.

Santos series was the only one to top 600. Other high individual games Tuesday included: Walt Shaw, Ralph's Cleaners, 229; R. Alholm, Central Club, 214; F. Teupel, Vagabonds, 210; Tom Gantert, Marketeers, 203; J. DeFillipe, Lucca Meats, 214; B. Curry, Thur Meats, 205; and Charles Shoots, Wm. Lagomarsino & Co., 217.

Dribblers Wallop Outclassed B'shore In Teen Farm Play

The Daly City Dribblers walloped an outclassed Bayshore Five, 52-18, in a Teenage Farm league game at the War Memorial Building last Monday evening. The Dribblers, led by Donnie Miller and Bob Riley, erupted for 24 points in the opening quarter to end all hope of a Bayshore victory.

John Rietz and Jim Datznam, Bayshore stars, attempted to stem the tide with eight and six points respectively, but their efforts were futile against the relentless Dribbler attack. The Dribblers Miller took high point honors with eight field goals for a total of 16 points, closely followed by Riley's 14. Datznam's nine points turned out to be tops for the losers. The Dribblers victory was their third in four starts and places them in strong contention for the league championship. The Bayshore loss marks their fourth against no wins.

The strong Community Center five, expected to provide Sharp Park with their stiffest competition to date, proved disappointing as the Coastiders swept to an easy 49-34 victory over the locals. Sam Kazy, consistent Community Center point maker, with four digits, accounted for all the center scoring in the opening period.

The Breakers squad meanwhile were piling up 14 points in this quarter chiefly on the efforts of Al Dye and Bill Pushman. Fathoming the Sharp Park zone somewhat in the second quarter, the center hoopsters were able to narrow the gap to eight.

Sharp Park's Bob Walsh, with three sets from the side, staved off a full scale center comeback during the quarter. The center five picked up another four points on the leaders after the intermission on Ron Postin's two field goals and free throw but the Breakers exploded once more in the final period for 16 points to wrap up their fourth consecutive victory. Sam Kazy outdistanced all scorers with 20 points while the winner's Walsh was runner up with 20. Both clubs have league crucials coming up in the near future.
